

ANNOUNCEMENT

Tara Flack – Strategic Sourcing Specialist

I am pleased to announce the promotion of Tara Flack to Strategic Sourcing Specialist with a focus on branded buyout product, motors and other component commodities. In this new role, Tara will be responsible for developing and executing commodity strategies that align with our current and future business needs. She will also manage key supplier relationships and potential supplier identification.

Tara began her career at Emerson in 1990 in Maysville Customer Service. She has held numerous positions since with an increasing degree of responsibility. Most recently Tara managed the group responsible for special pricing contracts and outbound marketing. Tara's background in Marketing and Customer Service make her well suited for this challenging position.

Tara will be transitioning to her new role over the next few weeks. Kay Faulkner will manage the Maysville pricing responsibilities and projects will be assigned during the transition.

Please join me in congratulating Tara on her promotion and wishing her success in her new role.
